BLUEWARE ANNOUNCES TRANSCRIPTION SYSTEM STATEMENT OF DIRECTION

Plans for a "Gold Standard" Release of BlueWare's Transcription System

Cadillac, Michigan—October 7th, 2008 -- BlueWare, INC. announces their intent to focus additional research and development efforts towards the "Gold Standard" release of their Transcription System.

This focused direction will include plans for two releases of the Transcription System, Version 4, and Version 5. These releases will support Office 2007 XML, Domino 8, and will include integration with Voice Recognition and Dictation Systems.

Version 4 of the Transcription System will be integrated into BlueWare's Wellness Connection EHR patent-pending architecture family. The overall goal of the new releases is to increase the ease-of-use of the system through end-user view enhancements and additional features and functions. Planned new features and functions include: distribution functionality with a configurable default physician distribution list, fax distribution of selected reports, ability to hold a transcribed report without marking it as incomplete and added security.

With the new releases, Wellness Connection Transcription System users and managers will be able to better track transcription activity, progress, and costs. The status of transcription documents will be easy to view, and will enable the transcription process to be more efficient.

BlueWare CEO Rose Harr says, "We are excited about enhancing this transcription product line and integrating it with our patent-pending Wellness Connection EHR architecture. The merging of the products makes both products that much more robust and better able to address our client needs".
